

Curriculum Vitae

Christopher J. Houghton Budd, Ph.D

Date of Birth: 14 August 1948 / Citizenship: United Kingdom

7 Riverside, Chartham, Canterbury CT4 7JR, Kent, England

Tel/Fax: +44 (0) 1227 738207 Email: chb@christopherhoughtonbudd.com

Christopher Houghton Budd has a long and varied biography concerning economics and finance. This has been the theme of his entire life, combining academic studies with practical business experience, consulting, doctoral studies, publishing and 'discreet' conversations with policy makers in the City of London, where he participates in the Monetary History Group with a principal focus on monetary policy and banking matters.

LANGUAGES

English (mother tongue); French (proficient); German (proficient); some Spanish.

FORMAL EDUCATION

1998-2001 City University (now Cass) Business School, London, England. Ph.D in Banking: "An enquiry into the relationship between central banking and the financial markets since 1973, with special reference to the Bank of England."

1993-6 University of Sussex, Brighton, England. BA (Hons.) in Economic History: Graduation project – "Dogs may bark...", a 30 minute documentary on central bank independence and the Bank of England.

1972 University of Sussex, Brighton, England. (Incomplete) Sociology Degree.

-1964 Judd Grammar School, Tonbridge, Kent.

INFORMAL EDUCATION

1965-7 Seamanship and navigation during 2 years on private yachts.

1968-9 Cinematic filming, sound, lighting, and editing in California, USA, and Sussex, England.

1968-9 Sociology and modern political history, with particular emphasis on Latin America.

PUBLICATIONS

Books:

Finance at the Threshold – Rethinking the real and financial economies. (2011, Gower)

Auditorial Central Banking (PhD Thesis) (2006)

Rare Albion – A Monetary Allegory (2005).

The Right On Corporation (2004).

Freeing the Circling Stars – Pre-funded education (2004).

The Metamorphosis of Capitalism (2003).

Of Wheat and Gold (1988).

Prelude in Economics (1979) (also in Dutch, French, Italian, Japanese, Spanish, Romanian)

Articles:

Many articles in 'alternative economics' publications (see fuller list christopherhoughtonbudd.com/writings.)

The Central Bank View of Virtual Finance, Central Banking Quarterly, May 2001.

Understanding Accounting Ethics (review). International Journal of Social Economics, December 2005.

TEACHING AND RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Teaching 2nd Year Economics of Finance (City University, London)

University teaching (City University, London; University of Sussex, Brighton; Bates College, Maine.)

Masters examining (Kingston University, Surrey);

PhD supervising (Prescott College, USA; Campinas, Brazil; Mendoza, Argentina)

Informal PhD supervising for private clients.

PROFESSIONAL AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Writing articles, editing, lecturing.

Publishing (New Economy Publications).

Over 200 public workshops on economic and banking history in many parts of the world.

Consulting on organisational structure, budgeting, and financial management (mainly schools and small businesses in UK, Brazil, Philippines and Australia).

Development of 'associative economics'.

Local politics and school management.

Housing management, property development, and ecological construction.

Organic farm management and food importation, distribution, and retailing.

TYPICAL PROJECTS

DUOC University, Chile – Designing course

Goethe University, Frankfurt for Springer, Berlin – Financial literacy manual

Youth Bonds – Mercedes, Argentina

World Gold Council, London, England – précis articles on gold markets.

Brief from private clients - the future of the Brazilian economy.

Philippines and Brazil - Third sector organisations and 'Third World' land reform.

L'Aubier Farm/Hotel, Neuchatel, Switzerland – project development.

Waldorf Education Columbus, Ohio, USA – structuring a pre-financed school.

Wealden Wholefoods, Wadhurst, Sussex, England – restructuring and capitalisation.